

From innovation to execution: Careers that power Micron

Early-Talent Career Huddles
ETCH connections. Build knowledge.

Who should attend

Students and recent graduates interested in learning about careers across engineering, technology, manufacturing and business at Micron.

What you'll gain

- A 60-minute panel and Q&A session with Micron team members
- Insights from multiple business units and career paths
- Candid conversations about growth, challenges and opportunities
- Live responses to student-submitted questions

Location: Virtual Zoom (Live only; session will not be recorded)

Sharpen your skills with Micron. Scan the QR code or click to register!

Moderated by

Lenée Young,
Senior University Recruiter

Date/Time: Wednesday, Apr 22 | 3:00 – 4:00 PM ET

Get an inside look at real Micron career paths, day-to-day work and how students can turn classroom learning into impactful semiconductor careers. There will be a live panel and Q&A featuring team members from engineering, manufacturing, technology and business.

Micron powers the future with memory and storage solutions, building the technology behind AI transformation from self-driving cars to large-scale data platforms.

Learn more at micron.com/careers.

micron