

GRADUATE STUDENT VOLUNTEERS WANTED

Volunteer at the KEMi Inaugural Symposium

Kren Engineering-Based Medicine Initiative

JOIN US ON THE DAY

KEMi is looking for graduate students to help run its first symposium and take notes at faculty roundtables on the future of health and healthcare.

Welcome and registration for morning guests

Food setup and cleanup with the catering team

Technical support during the morning talks

Roundtable note-taking at a faculty discussion

Teardown at the close of the day

SHIFTS

Check in 7:30 a.m.
Finish 1:30 p.m.

Morning session and lunch
Registration, food setup, technical support

Check in 12:30 p.m.
Finish 5:00 p.m.

Lunch and afternoon session
Note-taking, cleanup and teardown

Check in 7:30 a.m.
Finish 5:00 p.m.

All day
All of the above

Have a class during part of a shift? You can still sign up. The form asks for times you are unavailable.

Thursday, October 22, 2026

The Lyceum, HUB 160
Husky Union Building

VOLUNTEERS RECEIVE

- ◆ Lunch and a KEMi t-shirt
- ◆ A seat at a faculty roundtable in your area of interest
- ◆ A close look at KEMi research and the faculty leading it
- ◆ An opportunity to learn more about KEMi's new student steering committee

AFTERNOON ROUNDTABLES

Neural Engineering and Rehabilitation

Bio-Integrated Sensing

Medical Imaging and Systemic Disease Monitoring

Robotics, AI and Emergency Medicine

AI and Regenerative Medicine

Sign up by October 16

We are looking for 10 to 20 volunteers. Space is limited, so we may not be able to accept every sign-up, and sign-ups may close early.

Speakers: kemi.uw.edu/kemi-inaugural-symposium

Questions? uwkemi@uw.edu

See speakers

Sign up